

Professor Tamar Ross

The Role of Doubt in the Thought of Rabbi A.I. Kook

Wednesday, September 21st

Max M. Fisher Federation Building
6735 Telegraph Road, Bloomfield Hills

12:00 noon

Lunch will be served

RSVP at Cohnhaddowcenter@wayne.edu or (313)577-2679

Charge: $5 Walk-ins: $10

Pay at the door Cash or Check only

Dr. Tamar Ross is a professor emeritus of Jewish Philosophy at Bar Ilan University. Dr. Ross has published widely on many topics relating to Jewish thought, the philosophy of halakha and feminism including her book, Expanding the Palace of Torah. She is on Jewish Orthodox Feminist Alliance's (JOFA) Advisory Council. She continues to teach at Midreshet Lindenbaum, a women's Yeshiva in Jerusalem with which she has been associated since its inception in 1976.

Cohn-Haddow
Center for Judaic Studies

Jewish Federation
OF METROPOLITAN DETROIT

FedEd
We Deliver Adult Jewish Education